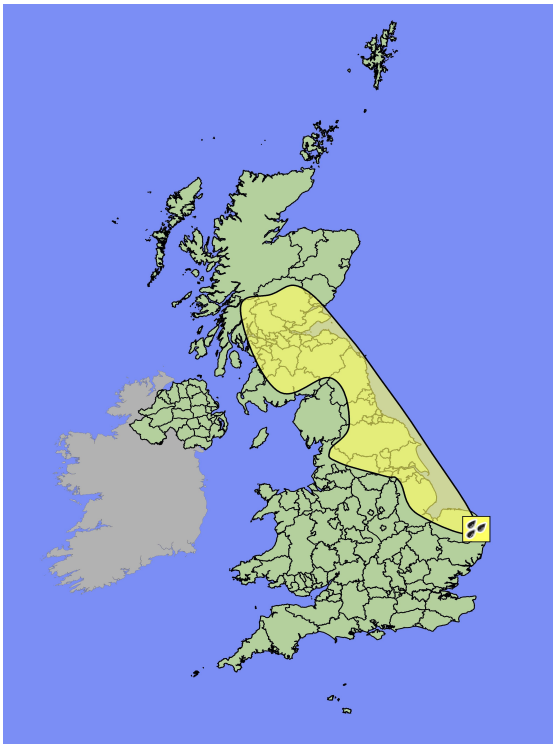
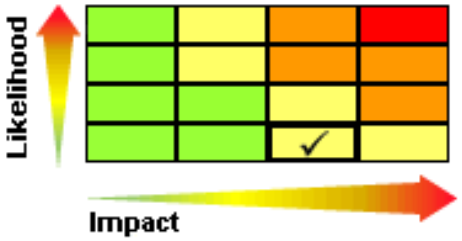
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
The low pressure area finally starts to withdraw eastwards on Monday though the heavy shower risk remains over parts of eastern and northern UK. There is the potential for some areas to catch 30 mm or more in just 3 or 4 hours.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Alert of Rain

Valid from 10:00 on Mon, 06th Aug 2012 until 22:00 on Mon, 06th Aug 2012

Heavy, thundery showers are expected to develop again during Monday. The public should be aware of the risk of surface water flooding, although as always in showery conditions, some places will escape.
